PROFILE

- I bring 20+ years’ experience across B2C, B2B, eCommerce, SaaS, internal tools, marketing, subscriptions, payments and CRO.
- My focus on users and craft has delivered strong business results for companies and agencies including Sky, Audi, Fanalysis, Whereby, BBH and R/GA.
- I use AI for research generation and synthesis, ideation, prototyping, design evaluation and QA - helping teams iterate faster.
- I’m a hands-on designer with leadership and team-building experience.
- Comfortable working solo in cross-functional teams or within wider design teams.
- My interests outside design are football, music, politics and history.

RECENT CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

Senior Product Designer @Fanalysis Jun 2025 - Dec 2025 (Freelance)

- I inherited a 3rd party beta product, ran user testing to identify key UX/UI issues and shipped improvements that gave the business confidence to launch on Sky Sports later in the year.
- I collaborated with product owners to design flagship features from scratch including AI avatar generation, user tiers and the Premier League tab.
- I worked closely with founders Michael and Lucas McIntyre to create their first marketing assets, including the company website, app store creative, brand guidelines and a TV promo.

Lead UX/UI Designer @Quicken Jan 2024 - May 2025 (Freelance)

- I led a conversion rate optimisation programme for an eCommerce website in the U.S. consumer Fintech market that helped ensure business performance during their peak season (new year financial planning).
- I helped the business scale from single product to multi-product including the development of a more complex subscription model.
- I defined customer journeys from advertising through landing pages and into checkout, covering payments, subscriptions and other key conversion points across the funnel.

Lead Product Designer @Sky/Comcast Oct 2021 - Jul 2022 (Freelance)

- My user research programme used task analysis, interviews and surveys to identify problems with internal software that were harming business performance.
- I recommended and designed UX/UI improvements that made the most common task 62% faster, creating a major productivity gain for the business.

Senior Product Designer @Deltatre May 2020 - Oct 2021 (Full-time)

- I shaped a 5-year fan engagement strategy with the SVP of Product.
- The new features that were delivered as a result of that strategy were sold to the NFL and other high-profile customers.
- I helped deliver the adaptation of the company’s flagship interactive video player for TV platforms including webOS & Apple TV.
